BALANCING ACT

The Muuto Balance vase features a slender classic form with a long neck and a very small base. It sits on a tray made of powder-coated steel. At first glance, the fired clay vase appears at risk of falling over, but it is locked in an upright position thanks to the small but powerful magnet attached to its base. The magnet also allows the vase to be moved around on the tray. Striking a stunning form while igniting the onlooker's curiosity, the delicate vessel is ideal as an accent or a centrepiece. For more information, visit www.muuto.com

FALLING INTO PLACE

Elegant enough for a formal dinner party yet simple and durable enough for everyday use, Carat is a collection of barware designed with an equiangular and equilateral polygon form so that it can be held in different positions depending on your preference or type of beverage. Without a stem or sham, it can rest on any of its many sides. When in an inclined position, the glass increases the surface of liquid exposed to air, enhancing aromas and allowing for oxygenation of fine spirits. If you're a whiskey drinker, the Carat can spin on its central core, ideal for stirring and releasing the flavour of the liquor. Available at www.kayiwa.fi
